The wooden's WORLD

We have two tropical forests located near Quevedo – Ecuador, 25 and 30 years old, where teak, bamboo, fustic, other hardwoods and medicinal trees grow. Nature converts CO2 into oxygen, providing fresh air to the environment which makes us a negative emission company.

Teak wood stands out for its properties when used outdoors, especially for its natural durability. It is currently one of the best known tropical woods in the market and has many uses, as ship building, house construction and outdoor and indoor furniture, decks and balconies.

Teak is the queen of the woods for its magnificent natural durability and dimensional stability. It has an antiseptic resin that makes it resistant to attacks by various organisms, as termites or fungi.

It also has a natural oil that makes it waterproof and resistant to extreme weather conditions, so it is perfect for outdoor use for decks yachts, etc.

Near the Equator the climatic and natural conditions in our farms are perfect for growing trees.
